

WINNERS AT NEW ORLEANS.

Conditions Improve and Day's Card Is Fair.

MATCHIM BROKE HIS BACK

Pangle's Bread-Winner Had to Be Destroyed as a Result.

(Special to The Evening World)
RACE TRACK, NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21.—The daily handicap at the Fair Grounds to-day was at six furlongs. It attracted a lot of speed and was the feature of a good card.

In threatened to rain all afternoon, but only enough fell to lay the dust. Everybody is tired of the mud, and now the track has become good again the owners and the bettors are hoping that it will remain in its present condition.

J. W. Pangle has had a streak of bad luck since he came here from Washington with his horses. Two of them ran away while at post when Pangle had bet heavily on them, and to-day he lost Matchim, the best horse he had. Matchim was by Hanover-Plym Watch and raced in the colors of A. Featherstone last year.

The colt came out of his last race lame, and while throwing him down this morning previous to firing his last leg, Matchim broke his back and had to be destroyed.

Several new stables have arrived, the best of them being that of Robinson & Leach, which got in from Memphis and which includes John Verker George Kratz, Innovator and several two-year-olds.

ROCKEFELLER WITH GOULDS

One Explanation of the Boom in Missouri Pacific Stock.

Missouri Pacific Railroad stock is the wonder of Wall street just now. It has been pushed along steadily recently and to-day was the strongest stock on change, reaching 10-34, and led a rally that sliced the market in nice shape.

Several reasons for the boom have been advanced, but that most accepted this afternoon was that John D. Rockefeller, in, who is credited with having a big lot of the stock, had pooled issues with the Goulds, the understanding being that neither was to sell out on the market.

Young Rockefellers managed a big boom in United States Leather stock two years ago.

LESSON XII.

O'ROURKE AFTER A BIG FIGHT. TOMMY RYAN WANTS A TITLE.

Says He Can Hold Championship Bout in Connecticut.

Syracuse Boxer Challenges Middle-weight to Fight Him for It.

Tom O'Rourke says he has finally located a spot where he can pull offights. He won't tell where it is, but it is believed to be at Pleasure Beach, the summer resort, just across the river from Bridgeport, Conn.

O'Rourke has had his eye on the place since the Horton Law went out of existence last September, and, having received the desired sanction from the local authorities, he has started the ball rolling by offering a large purse battle between the winner of the Jeffries-Ruhlin bout and Bob Fitzsimmons.

"I will match Joe Watson tomorrow to fight him. They would draw an immense crowd, and I would furthermore make it worth his while to box Watson by making a big side bet on the result," replied O'Rourke.

"When you expect to pull off this fight, how many rounds?"

O'Rourke stated that as soon as Fitzsimmons has claimed the title which the Cornishman won from Dempsey, for years Ryan has been looked upon as the best man in the welter-weight class, having defeated quite easily all the men of his weight.

At present Ryan is matched to meet Charley McKeever, of Philadelphia, before the National Sporting Club of London, next April. Before fighting he intends meeting all comers, and will not refuse a match with any legitimate middle-weight in America.

"When the times the fighters want it?"

O'Rourke said that as soon as Fitzsimmons has claimed the title which the Jeffries-Ruhlin bout, say they are ready to make a date.

He is the head of the school and wants his pleasure. Woodruffe swung very wide into the stretch but got the show in the final stride.

WANTS TO FIGHT CARTER.

Sam Fitzpatrick, manager of Bill Hurnish, the West Side A. C., held its intercity amateur boxing championships with the postmen A. A. boxers Saturday evening. Jerry Hayes, the local club's boxer, won against Joe Brooks, the Boston boxer, Billy McEvoy, of the New West Side A. C., won from Jack Gerhard in the 125 pound class, and Bill Ryans of Boston, from Josie Hanrahan, took the 135 pound class.

The New West Side A. C. won two meetings to each stake and is the poorest showing the club has ever made. The condition of the track and the lack of opportunities to train may have had a great deal to do with lightness of the stakes nominations. At all events better racing's likely to come out of the over-night purse than out of the stakes.
